Official Staff Commentary on Regulation M

12 CFR 213, supplement I; as amended effective January 1, 2024

6-565

INTRODUCTION

1. Official status. The commentary in supplement I is the vehicle by which the Division of Consumer and Community Affairs of the Federal Reserve Board issues official staff interpretations of Regulation M (12 CFR 213). Good faith compliance with this commentary affords protection from liability under section 130(f) of the Truth in Lending Act (15 USC 1640). Section 130(f) protects lessors from civil liability for any act done or omitted in good faith in conformity with any interpretation issued by a duly authorized official or employee of the Federal Reserve System.

2. Procedures for requesting interpretations. Under appendix C of Regulation M, anyone may request an official staff interpretation. Interpretations that are adopted will be incorporated in this commentary following publication in the Federal Register. No official staff interpretations are expected to be issued other than by means of this commentary.

3. Comment designations. Each comment in the commentary is identified by a number and the regulatory section or paragraph that it interprets. The comments are designated with as much specificity as possible according to the particular regulatory provision addressed. For example, some of the comments to section 213.4(f) are further divided by subparagraph, such as comment 4(f)(1)-1 and comment 4(f)(1)-2. In other cases, comments have more general application and are designated, for example, as comment 4(a)-1. This introduction may be cited as comments I-1 through I-4. An appendix may be cited as comment app. A-1.

4. Illustrations. Lists that appear in the commentary may be exhaustive or illustrative; the appropriate construction should be clear from the context. Illustrative lists are introduced by phrases such as “including,” “such as,” “to illustrate,” and “for example.”

6-565.1

SECTION 213.1—Authority, Scope, Purpose, and Enforcement

1. Foreign applicability. Regulation M applies to all persons (including branches of foreign banks or leasing companies located in the United States) that offer consumer leases to residents of any state (including foreign nationals) as defined in section 213.2(p). The regulation does not apply to a foreign branch of a U.S. bank or to a leasing company leasing to a U.S. citizen residing or visiting abroad or to a foreign national abroad.

6-565.2

SECTION 213.2—Definitions

2(b) Advertisement

1. Coverage. The term “advertisement” includes messages inviting, offering, or otherwise generally announcing to prospective customers the availability of consumer leases, whether in visual, oral, print or electronic media. Examples include:

- i. messages in newspapers, magazines, leaflets, catalogs, and fliers
- ii. messages on radio, television, and public address systems
- iii. direct mail literature
- iv. printed material on any interior or exterior sign or display, in any window display, in any point-of-transaction literature or price tag that is delivered or made available to a lessee or prospective lessee in any manner whatsoever
- v. telephone solicitations
- vi. on-line messages, such as those on the Internet

2. Exclusions. The term does not apply to the following:

- i. direct personal contacts, including follow-up letters, cost estimates for individual lessees, or oral or written communi-

- cations relating to the negotiation of a specific transaction
 - ii. informational material distributed only to businesses
 - iii. notices required by federal or state law, if the law mandates that specific information be displayed and only the mandated information is included in the notice
 - iv. news articles controlled by the news medium
 - v. market research or educational materials that do not solicit business
3. Persons covered. See the commentary to section 213.7(a).

6-565.3

2(d) Closed-End Lease

1. General. In closed-end leases, sometimes referred to as “walk-away” leases, the lessee is not responsible for the residual value of the leased property at the end of the lease term.

6-565.4

2(e) Consumer Lease

1. Primary purposes. A lessor must determine in each case if the leased property will be used primarily for personal, family, or household purposes. If a question exists as to the primary purpose for a lease, the fact that a lessor gives disclosures is not controlling on the question of whether the transaction is covered. The primary purpose of a lease is determined before or at consummation and a lessor need not provide Regulation M disclosures where there is a subsequent change in the primary use.

2. Period of time. To be a consumer lease, the initial term of the lease must be more than four months. Thus, a lease of personal property for four months, three months or on a month-to-month or week-to-week basis (even though the lease actually extends beyond four months) is not a consumer lease and is not subject to the disclosure requirements of the regulation. However, a lease that imposes a penalty for not continuing the lease beyond four months is considered to have a term of more than four months. To illustrate:

- i. A three-month lease extended on a month-to-month basis and terminated after one year is not subject to the regulation.

- ii. A month-to-month lease with a penalty, such as the forfeiture of a security deposit for terminating before one year, is subject to the regulation.

3. Total contractual obligation. The total contractual obligation is not necessarily the same as the total of payments disclosed under section 213.4(e). The total contractual obligation includes nonrefundable amounts a lessee is contractually obligated to pay to the lessor, but excludes items such as:

- i. residual value amounts or purchase-option prices;
- ii. amounts collected by the lessor but paid to a third party, such as taxes, licenses, and registration fees.

6-565.5

4. Credit sale. The regulation does not cover a lease that meets the definition of a credit sale in Regulation Z, 12 CFR 226.2(a)(16), which is defined, in part, as a bailment or lease (unless terminable without penalty at any time by the consumer) under which the consumer:

- i. agrees to pay as compensation for use a sum substantially equivalent to, or in excess of, the total value of the property and services involved; and
- ii. will become (or has the option to become), for no additional consideration or for nominal consideration, the owner of the property upon compliance with the agreement.

5. Agricultural purpose. “Agricultural purpose” means a purpose related to the production, harvest, exhibition, marketing, transportation, processing, or manufacture of agricultural products by a natural person who cultivates, plants, propagates, or nurtures those agricultural products, including but not limited to the acquisition of personal property and services used primarily in farming. Agricultural products include horticultural, viticultural, and dairy products, livestock, wildlife, poultry, bees, forest products, fish and shellfish, and any products thereof, including processed and manufactured products, and any and all products raised or produced on farms and any processed or manufactured products thereof.

6. Organization or other entity. A consumer lease does not include a lease made to an organization such as a corporation or a government agency or instrumentality. Such a lease is not covered by the regulation even if the leased property is used (by an employee, for example) primarily for personal, family, or household purposes, or is guaranteed by or subsequently assigned to a natural person.

7. Leases of personal property incidental to a service. The following leases of personal property are deemed incidental to a service and thus are not subject to the regulation:

- i. Home entertainment systems requiring the consumer to lease equipment that enables a television to receive the transmitted programming.
- ii. Security alarm systems requiring the installation of leased equipment intended to monitor unlawful entries into a home and in some cases to provide fire protection.
- iii. Propane gas service where the consumer must lease a propane tank to receive the service.

8. Safe deposit boxes. The lease of a safe deposit box is not a consumer lease under section 213.2(e).

9. Threshold amount. A consumer lease is exempt from the requirements of this part if the total contractual obligation exceeds the threshold amount in effect at the time of consummation. The threshold amount in effect during a particular time period is the amount stated in comment 2(e)-11 for that period. The threshold amount is adjusted effective January 1 of each year by any annual percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers (CPI-W) that was in effect on the preceding June 1. Comment 2(e)-11 will be amended to provide the threshold amount for the upcoming year after the annual percentage change in the CPI-W that was in effect on June 1 becomes available. Any increase in the threshold amount will be rounded to the nearest $100 increment. For example, if the annual percentage increase in the CPI-W would result in a $950 increase in the threshold amount, the threshold amount will be increased by $1,000. However, if the annual percentage increase in the CPI-W would result in a $949 increase in the threshold amount, the threshold amount will be increased by $900. If a consumer lease is exempt from the requirements of this part because the total contractual obligation exceeds the threshold amount in effect at the time of consummation, the lease remains exempt regardless of a subsequent increase in the threshold amount.

10. No increase in the CPI-W. If the CPI-W in effect on June 1 does not increase from the CPI-W in effect on June 1 of the previous year, the threshold amount effective the following January 1 through December 31 will not change from the previous year. When this occurs, for the years that follow, the threshold is calculated based on the annual percentage change in the CPI-W applied to the dollar amount that would have resulted, after rounding, if decreases and any subsequent increases in the CPI-W had been taken into account.

- i. Net increases. If the resulting amount calculated, after rounding, is greater than the current threshold, then the threshold effective January 1 the following year will increase accordingly.
- ii. Net decreases. If the resulting amount calculated, after rounding, is equal to or less than the current threshold, then the threshold effective January 1 the following year will not change, but future increases will be calculated based on the amount that would have resulted.

11. Threshold. For purposes of section 213.2(e)(1), the threshold amount in effect during a particular period is the amount stated below for that period.

- i. Prior to July 21, 2011, the threshold amount is $25,000.
- ii. From July 21, 2011 through December 31, 2011, the threshold amount is $50,000.
- iii. From January 1, 2012 through December 31, 2012, the threshold amount is $51,800.

- iv. From January 1, 2013 through December 31, 2013, the threshold amount is $53,000.
 - v. From January 1, 2014 through December 31, 2014, the threshold amount is $53,500.
 - vi. From January 1, 2015 through December 31, 2015, the threshold amount is $54,600.
 - vii. From January 1, 2016 through December 31, 2016, the threshold amount is $54,600.
 - viii. From January 1, 2017 through December 31, 2017, the threshold amount is $54,600.
 - ix. From January 1, 2018 through December 31, 2018, the threshold amount is $55,800.
 - x. From January 1, 2019 through December 31, 2019, the threshold amount is $57,200.
 - xi. From January 1, 2020 through December 31, 2020, the threshold amount is $58,300.
 - xii. From January 1, 2021 through December 31, 2021, the threshold amount is $58,300.
 - xiii. From January 1, 2022 through December 31, 2022, the threshold amount is $61,000.
 - xiv. From January 1, 2023 through December 31, 2023, the threshold amount is $66,400.
 - xv. From January 1, 2024 through December 31, 2024, the threshold amount is $69,500.
- ation for the service or (b) has knowledge of the lease terms and participates in the preparation of the contract documents required in connection with the lease. To illustrate:
- i. An automobile dealer who, pursuant to a business relationship, completes the necessary lease agreement before forwarding it for execution to the leasing company (to whom the obligation is payable on its face) is “arranging” for the lease.
 - ii. An automobile dealer who, without receiving a fee for the service, refers a customer to a leasing company that will prepare all relevant contract documents is not “arranging” for the lease.
2. Consideration. The term “other consideration” as used in comment 2(h)-1 refers to an actual payment corresponding to a fee or similar compensation and not to intangible benefits, such as the advantage of increased business, which may flow from the relationship between the parties.
3. Assignees. An assignee may be a lessor for purposes of the regulation in circumstances when the assignee has substantial involvement in the lease transaction. See cf. Ford Motor Credit Co. v. Cenance, 452 U.S. 155 (1981) (held that an assignee was a creditor for purposes of the pre-1980 Truth in Lending Act and Regulation Z because of its substantial involvement in the credit transaction).
4. Multiple lessors. See the commentary to section 213.3(c).

6-565.62(g) Lessee

1. Guarantors. Guarantors are not lessees for purposes of the regulation.

6-565.72(h) Lessor

1. Arranger of a lease. To “arrange” for the lease of personal property means to provide or offer to provide a lease that is or will be extended by another person under a business or other relationship pursuant to which the person arranging the lease (a) receives or will receive a fee, compensation, or other consider-

6-565.82(j) Organization

1. Coverage. The term organization includes joint ventures and persons operating under a business name.

6-565.92(l) Personal Property

1. Coverage. Whether property is personal property depends on state or other applicable law. For example, a mobile home or houseboat may be considered personal property in one state but real property in another.

2(m) Realized Value

1. General. Realized value refers to either the retail or wholesale value of the leased property at early termination or at the end of the lease term. It is not a required disclosure. Realized value is relevant only to leases in which the lessee's liability at early termination or at the end of the lease term typically is based on the difference between the residual value (or the adjusted lease balance) of the leased property and its realized value.

2. Options. Subject to the contract and to state or other applicable law, the lessor may calculate the realized value in determining the lessee's liability at the end of the lease term or at early termination in one of the three ways stated in section 213.2(m). If the lessor sells the property prior to making the determination about liability, the price received for the property (or the fair market value) is the realized value. If the lessor does not sell the property prior to making that determination, the highest offer or the fair market value is the realized value.

3. Determination of realized value. Disposition charges are not subtracted in determining the realized value but amounts attributable to taxes may be subtracted.

4. Offers. In determining the highest offer for disposition, the lessor may disregard offers that an offeror has withdrawn or is unable or unwilling to perform.

5. Lessor's appraisal. See commentary to section 213.4(l).

6-566

2. General coverage. An interest the lessor may have in leased property must be disclosed only if it is considered a security interest under state or other applicable law. The term includes, but is not limited to, security interests under the Uniform Commercial Code; real property mortgages, deeds of trust, and other consensual or confessed liens whether or not recorded; mechanic's, materialman's, artisan's, and other similar liens; vendor's liens in both real and personal property; liens on property arising by operation of law; and any interest in a lease when used to secure payment or performance of an obligation.

3. Insurance exception. The lessor's right to insurance proceeds or unearned insurance premiums is not a security interest for purposes of this regulation.

6-566.2

SECTION 213.3—General Disclosure Requirements

3(a) General Requirements

1. Basis of disclosures. Disclosures must reflect the terms of the legal obligation between the parties. For example:

- i. In a three-year lease with no penalty for termination after a one-year minimum term, disclosures are based on the full three-year term of the lease. The one-year minimum term is only relevant to the early termination provisions of section 213.4(g)(1), (k), and (l).

2. Clear-and-conspicuous standard. The clear-and-conspicuous standard requires that disclosures be reasonably understandable. For example, the disclosures must be presented in a way that does not obscure the relationship of the terms to each other; appendix A of this part contains model forms that meet this standard. In addition, although no minimum typesize is required, the disclosures must be legible, whether typewritten, handwritten, or printed by computer.

3. Multipurpose disclosure forms. A lessor may use a multipurpose disclosure form pro-

6-566.1

2(o) Security Interest and Security

1. Disclosable interests. For purposes of disclosure, a security interest is an interest taken by the lessor to secure performance of the lessee's obligation. For example, if a bank that is not a lessor makes a loan to a leasing company and takes assignments of consumer leases generated by that company to secure the loan, the bank's security interest in the lessor's receivables is not a security interest for purposes of this regulation.

vided the lessor is able to designate the specific disclosures applicable to a given transaction, consistent with the requirement that disclosures be clearly and conspicuously provided.

4. Number of transactions. Lessors have flexibility in handling lease transactions that may be viewed as multiple transactions. For example:

- i. When a lessor leases two items to the same lessee on the same day, the lessor may disclose the leases as either one or two lease transactions.
- ii. When a lessor sells insurance or other incidental services in connection with a lease, the lessor may disclose in one of two ways: as a single lease transaction (in which case Regulation M, not Regulation Z, disclosures are required) or as a lease transaction and a credit transaction.
- iii. When a lessor includes an outstanding lease or credit balance in a lease transaction, the lessor may disclose the outstanding balance as part of a single lease transaction (in which case Regulation M, not Regulation Z, disclosures are required) or as a lease transaction and a credit transaction.

6-566.3

3(a)(1) Form of Disclosures

1. Cross-references. Lessors may include in the nonsegregated disclosures a cross-reference to items in the segregated disclosures rather than repeat those items. A lessor may include in the segregated disclosures numeric or alphabetic designations as cross-references to related information so long as such references do not obscure or detract from the segregated disclosures.

2. Identification of parties. While disclosures must be made clearly and conspicuously, lessors are not required to use the word “lessor” and “lessee” to identify the parties to the lease transaction.

3. Lessor’s address. The lessor must be identified by name; an address (and telephone number) may be provided.

4. Multiple lessors and lessees. In transactions involving multiple lessors and multiple lessees, a single lessor may make all the disclosures to a single lessee as long as the disclosure statement identifies all the lessors and lessees.

5. Lessee’s signature. The regulation does not require that the lessee sign the disclosure statement, whether disclosures are separately provided or are part of the lease contract. Nevertheless, to provide evidence that disclosures are given before a lessee becomes obligated on the lease transaction, the lessor may, for example, ask the lessee to sign the disclosure statement or an acknowledgment of receipt, may place disclosures that are included in the lease documents above the lessee’s signature, or include instructions alerting a lessee to read the disclosures prior to signing the lease.

3(a)(2) Segregation of Certain Disclosures

1. Location. The segregated disclosures referred to in section 213.3(a)(2) may be provided on a separate document and the other required disclosures may be provided in the lease contract, so long as all disclosures are given at the same time. Alternatively, all disclosures may be provided in a separate document or in the lease contract.

2. Additional information among segregated disclosures. The disclosures required to be segregated may contain only the information required or permitted to be included among the segregated disclosures.

3. Substantially similar. See commentary to appendix A of this part.

6-566.41

3(a)(3) Timing of Disclosures

1. Consummation. When a contractual relationship is created between the lessor and the lessee is a matter to be determined under state or other applicable law.

6-566.5

3(b) Additional Information; Nonsegregated Disclosures

1. State law disclosures. A lessor may include in the nonsegregated disclosures any state law disclosures that are not inconsistent with the act and regulation under section 213.9 as long as, in accordance with the standard set forth in section 213.3(b) for additional information, the state law disclosures are not used or placed to mislead or confuse or detract from any disclosure required by the regulation.

6-566.6

3(c) Multiple Lessors or Lessees

1. Multiple lessors. If a single lessor provides disclosures to a lessee on behalf of several lessors, all disclosures for the transaction must be given, even if the lessor making the disclosures would not otherwise have been obligated to make a particular disclosure.

6-566.7

3(d) Use of Estimates

3(d)(1) Standard

1. Time of estimated disclosure. The lessor may, after making a reasonable effort to obtain information, use estimates to make disclosures if necessary information is unknown or unavailable at the time the disclosures are made.

2. Basis of estimates. Estimates must be made on the basis of the best information reasonably available at the time disclosures are made. The “reasonably available” standard requires that the lessor, acting in good faith, exercise due diligence in obtaining information. The lessor may rely on the representations of other parties. For example, the lessor might look to the consumer to determine the purpose for which leased property will be used, to insurance companies for the cost of insurance, or to an automobile manufacturer or dealer for the date of delivery. See commentary to section 213.4(n) for estimating official fees and taxes.

3. Residual value of leased property at termination. In an open-end lease where the lessee’s liability at the end of the lease term is based on the residual value of the leased property as determined at consummation, the estimate of the residual value must be reasonable and based on the best information reasonably available to the lessor (see section 213.4(m)). A lessor should generally use an accepted trade publication listing estimated current or future market prices for the leased property unless other information or a reasonable belief based on its experience provides the better information. For example:

- i. An automobile lessor offering a three-year open-end lease assigns a wholesale value to the vehicle at the end of the lease term. The lessor may disclose as an estimate a wholesale value derived from a generally accepted trade publication listing current wholesale values.
- ii. Same facts as above, except that the lessor discloses an estimated value derived by adjusting the residual value quoted in the trade publication because, in its experience, the trade publication values either understate or overstate the prices actually received in local used-vehicle markets. The lessor may adjust estimated values quoted in trade publications if the lessor reasonably believes based on its experience that the values are understated or overstated.

4. Retail or wholesale value. The lessor may choose either a retail or a wholesale value in estimating the value of leased property at termination of an open-end lease provided the choice is consistent with the lessor’s general practice when determining the value of the property at the end of the lease term. The lessor should indicate whether the value disclosed is a retail or wholesale value.

5. Labeling estimates. Generally, only the disclosure for which the exact information is unknown is labeled as an estimate. Nevertheless, when several disclosures are affected because of the unknown information, the lessor has the option of labeling as an estimate every affected disclosure or only the disclosure primarily affected.

6-566.8

3(e) Effect of Subsequent Occurrence

1. Subsequent occurrences. Examples of subsequent occurrences include:

- i. an agreement between the lessee and les-

- sor to change from a monthly to a weekly payment schedule
- ii. an increase in official fees or taxes
 - iii. an increase in insurance premiums or coverage caused by a change in the law
 - iv. late delivery of an automobile caused by a strike

2. Redisclosure. When a disclosure becomes inaccurate because of a subsequent occurrence, the lessor need not make new disclosures unless new disclosures are required under section 213.5.

3. Lessee's failure to perform. The lessor does not violate the regulation if a previously given disclosure becomes inaccurate when a lessee fails to perform obligations under the contract and a lessor takes actions that are necessary and proper in such circumstances to protect its interest. For example, the addition of insurance or a security interest by the lessor because the lessee has not performed obligations contracted for in the lease is not a violation of the regulation.

amount owed on a prior lease or credit balance exceeds the agreed-upon value of a trade-in, the difference is not reflected as a negative trade-in allowance under section 213.4(b). The lessor may disclose the trade-in allowance as zero or not applicable, or may leave a blank line.

4. Rebates. Only rebates applied toward an amount due at lease signing or delivery are required to be disclosed under section 213.4(b).

5. Balance-sheet approach. In motor vehicle leases, the total for the column labeled "total amount due at lease signing or delivery" must equal the total for the column labeled "how the amount due at lease signing or delivery will be paid."

6. Amounts to be paid in cash. The term "cash" is intended to include payments by check or other payment methods in addition to currency; however, a lessor may add a line item under the column "how the amount due at lease signing or delivery will be paid" for noncurrency payments such as credit cards.

6-566.9

SECTION 213.4—Content of Disclosures

4(a) Description of Property

1. Placement of description. Although the description of leased property may not be included among the segregated disclosures, a lessor may choose to place the description directly above the segregated disclosures.

6-567

4(b) Amount Due at Lease Signing or Delivery

1. Consummation. See commentary to section 213.3(a)(3).

2. Capitalized cost reduction. A capitalized cost reduction is a payment in the nature of a downpayment on the leased property that reduces the amount to be capitalized over the term of the lease. This amount does not include any amounts included in a periodic payment paid at lease signing or delivery.

3. "Negative" equity trade-in allowance. If an

6-567.1

4(c) Payment Schedule and Total Amount of Periodic Payments

1. Periodic payments. The phrase "number, amount, and due dates or periods of payments" requires the disclosure of all payments that are made at regular or irregular intervals and generally derived from rent, capitalized or amortized amounts such as depreciation, and other amounts that are collected by the lessor at the same interval(s), including, for example, taxes, maintenance, and insurance charges. Other periodic payments may, but need not, be disclosed under section 213.4(c).

6-567.2

4(d) Other Charges

1. Coverage. Section 213.4(d) requires the disclosure of charges that are anticipated by the parties incident to the normal operation of the lease agreement. If a lessor is unsure whether a particular fee is an "other charge," the lessor may disclose the fee as such without violating section 213.4(d) or the segregation rule under section 213.3(a)(2).

2. Excluded charges. This section does not require disclosure of charges that are imposed when the lessee terminates early, fails to abide by, or modifies the terms of the existing lease agreement, such as charges for:

- i. late payment
- ii. default
- iii. early termination
- iv. deferral of payments
- v. extension of the lease

3. Third-party fees and charges. Third-party fees or charges collected by the lessor on behalf of third parties, such as taxes, are not disclosed under section 213.4(d).

4. Relationship to other provisions. The other charges mentioned in this paragraph are charges that are not required to be disclosed under some other provision of section 213.4. To illustrate:

- i. The price of a mechanical-breakdown protection (MBP) contract is sometimes disclosed as an “other charge.” Nevertheless, the price of MBP is sometimes reflected in the periodic payment disclosure under section 213.4(c) or in states where MBP is regarded as insurance, the cost is to be disclosed in accordance with section 213.4(o).

5. Lessee’s liabilities in the end of the lease term. Liabilities that the lessor imposes upon the lessee at the end of the scheduled lease term and that must be disclosed under section 213.4(d) include disposition and “pick-up” charges.

6. Optional “disposition” charges. Disposition and similar charges that are anticipated by the parties as an incident to the normal operation of the lease agreement must be disclosed under section 213.4(d). If, under a lease agreement, a lessee may return leased property to various locations, and the lessor charges a disposition fee depending upon the location chosen, under section 213.4(d), the lessor must disclose the highest amount charged. In such circumstances, the lessor may also include a brief explanation of the fee structure in the segregated disclosure. For example, if no fee or a lower fee is imposed for returning a leased vehicle to the originating dealer as opposed to another location, that fact may be disclosed. By contrast, if the terms of the lease treat the return of the leased property to a location outside the lessor’s service area as a default, the fee imposed is not disclosed as an “other charge,” although it may be required to be disclosed under section 213.4(q).

6-567.3

4(e) Total of Payments

1. Open-end lease. The additional statement is required under section 213.4(e) for open-end leases because, with some limitations, a lessee is liable at the end of the lease term for the difference between the residual and realized values of the leased property.

6-567.4

4(f) Payment Calculation

1. Motor vehicle lease. Whether leased property is a motor vehicle is determined by state or other applicable law.

2. Multiple items. If a lease transaction involves multiple items of leased property, one of which is not a motor vehicle under state law, at their option, lessors may include all items in the disclosures required under section 213.4(f). See comment 3(a)-4 regarding disclosure of multiple transactions.

6-567.5

4(f)(1) Gross Capitalized Cost

1. Agreed-upon value of the vehicle. The agreed-upon value of a motor vehicle includes the amount of capitalized items such as charges for vehicle accessories and options, and delivery or destination charges. The lessor may also include taxes and fees for title, licenses, and registration that are capitalized. Charges for service or maintenance contracts, insurance products, guaranteed automobile protection, or an outstanding balance on a prior lease or credit transaction are not included in the agreed-upon value.

2. Itemization of the gross capitalized cost. The lessor may choose to provide the itemization of the gross capitalized cost only on request or may provide the itemization as a matter of course. In the latter case, the lessor need not provide a statement of the lessee's option to receive an itemization. The gross capitalized cost must be itemized by type and amount. The lessor may include in the itemization an identification of the items and amounts of some or all of the items contained in the agreed-upon value of the vehicle. The itemization must be provided at the same time as the other disclosures required by section 213.4, but it may not be included among the segregated disclosures.

4(f)(7) Total of Base Periodic Payments

1. Accuracy of disclosure. If the periodic-payment calculation under section 213.4(f) has been calculated correctly, the amount disclosed under section 213.4(f)(7)—the total of base periodic payments—is correct for disclosure purposes even if that amount differs from the base periodic payment disclosed under section 213.4(f)(9) multiplied by the number of lease payments disclosed under section 213.4(f)(8), when the difference is due to rounding.

6-567.6

4(f)(8) Lease Payment

1. Lease term. The lease term may be disclosed among the segregated disclosures.

6-567.7

4(g) Early Termination

4(g)(1) Conditions and Disclosure of Charges

1. Reasonableness of charges. See the commentary to section 213.4(q).

2. Description of the method. Section 213.4(g)(1) requires a full description of the method of determining an early termination charge. The lessor should attempt to provide consumers with clear and understandable descriptions of its early termination charges. Descriptions that are full, accurate, and not intended to be misleading will comply with section 213.4(g)(1), even if the descriptions are complex. In providing a full description of an early termination method, a lessor may use the name of a generally accepted method of computing the unamortized cost portion (also known as the "adjusted lease balance") of its early termination charges. For example, a lessor may state that the "constant-yield" method will be utilized in obtaining the adjusted lease balance, but must specify how that figure, and any other term or figure, is used in computing the total early termination charge imposed upon the consumer. Additionally, if a lessor refers to a named method in this manner, the lessor must provide a written explanation of that method if requested by the consumer. The lessor has the option of providing the explanation as a matter of course in the lease documents or on a separate document.

3. Timing of written explanation of a named method. While a lessor may provide an address or telephone number for the consumer to request a written explanation of the named method used to calculate the adjusted lease balance, if at consummation a consumer requests such as explanation, the lessor must provide a written explanation at that time. If a consumer requests an explanation after consummation, the lessor must provide a written explanation within a reasonable time after the request is made.

4. Default. When default is a condition for early termination of a lease, default charges must be disclosed under section 213.4(g)(1). See the commentary to section 213.4(q).

5. Lessee's liability at early termination. When the lessee is liable for the difference between the unamortized cost and the realized value at early termination, the method of determining the amount of the difference must be disclosed under section 213.4(g)(1).

6-567.8

4(h) Maintenance Responsibilities

1. Standards for wear and use. No disclosure is required if a lessor does not set standards or impose charges for wear and use (such as excess mileage).

6-567.94(i) Purchase Option

1. Mandatory disclosure of no purchase option. Generally the lessor need only make the specific required disclosures that apply to a transaction. In the case of a purchase-option disclosure, however, a lessor must disclose affirmatively that the lessee has no option to purchase the leased property if the purchase option is inapplicable.

2. Existence of purchase option. Whether a purchase option exists under the lease is determined by state or other applicable law. The lessee's right to submit a bid to purchase property at termination of the lease is not an option to purchase under section 213.4(i) if the lessor is not required to accept the lessee's bid and the lessee does not receive preferential treatment.

3. Purchase-option fee. A purchase-option fee is disclosed under section 213.4(i), not section 213.4(d). The fee may be separately itemized or disclosed as part of the purchase-option price.

4. Official fees and taxes. Official fees such as those for taxes, licenses, and registration charged in connection with the exercise of a purchase option may be disclosed under section 213.4(i) as part of the purchase-option price (with or without a reference to their inclusion in that price) or may be separately disclosed and itemized by category. Alternatively, a lessor may provide a statement indicating that the purchase-option price does not include fees for tags, taxes, and registration.

5. Purchase-option price. Lessors must disclose the purchase-option price as a sum certain or as a sum certain to be determined at a future date by reference to a readily available independent source. The reference should provide sufficient information so that the lessee will be able to determine the actual price when the option becomes available. Statements of a purchase price as the "negotiated price" or the "fair market value" do not comply with the requirements of section 213.4(i).

6-5684(j) Statement Referencing
Nonsegregated Disclosures

1. Content. A lessor may delete inapplicable items from the disclosure. For example, if a lease contract does not include a security interest, the reference to a security interest may be omitted.

6-568.14(l) Right of Appraisal

1. Disclosure inapplicable. The lessee does not have the right to an independent appraisal merely because the lessee is liable at the end of the lease term or at early termination for unreasonable wear or use. Thus, the disclosure under section 213.4(l) does not apply. For example:

i. The automobile lessor might expect a lessee to return an undented car with four good tires at the end of the lease term. Even though it may hold the lessee liable for the difference between a dented car with bald tires and the value of a car in reasonably good repair, the disclosure under section 213.4(l) is not required.

2. Lessor's appraisal. If the lessor obtains an appraisal of the leased property to determine its realized value, that appraisal does not suffice for purposes of section 183(c) of the act; the lessor must disclose the lessee's right to an independent appraisal under section 213.4(l).

3. Retail or wholesale. In providing the disclosures in section 213.4(l), a lessor must indicate whether the wholesale or retail appraisal value will be used.

4. Time restriction on appraisal. The regulation does not specify a time period in which the lessee must exercise the appraisal right. The lessor may require a lessee to obtain the appraisal within a reasonable time after termination of the lease.

6-568.24(m) Liability at End of Lease Term
Based on Residual Value

1. Open-end leases. Section 213.4(m) applies only to open-end leases.

2. Lessor's payment of attorney's fees. Section 183(a) of the act requires that the lessor pay the lessee's attorney's fees in all actions under section 213.4(m), whether successful or not.

6-568.3

4(m)(1) Rent and Other Charges

1. General. This disclosure is intended to represent the cost of financing an open-end lease based on charges and fees that the lessor requires the lessee to pay. Examples of disclosable charges, in addition to the rent charge, include acquisition, disposition, or assignment fees. Charges imposed by a third party whose services are not required by the lessor (such as official fees and voluntary insurance) are not included in the section 213.4(m)(1) disclosure.

6-568.4

4(m)(2) Excess Liability

1. Coverage. The disclosure limiting the lessee's liability for the value of the leased property does not apply in the case of early termination.

2. Leases with a minimum term. If a lease has an alternative minimum term, the disclosures governing the liability limitation are not applicable for the minimum term.

3. Charges not subject to rebuttable presumption. The limitation on liability applies only to liability at the end of the lease term that is based on the difference between the residual value of the leased property and its realized value. The regulation does not preclude a lessor from recovering other charges from the lessee at the end of the lease term. Examples of such charges include:

- i. disposition charges
- ii. excess mileage charges
- iii. late payment and default charges
- iv. in simple-interest accounting leases, amount by which the unamortized cost exceeds the residual value because the lessee has not made timely payments

6-568.5

4(n) Fees and Taxes

1. Treatment of certain taxes. Taxes paid in connection with the lease are generally disclosed under section 213.4(n), but there are exceptions. To illustrate:

- i. Taxes paid by lease signing or delivery are disclosed under section 213.4(b) and section 213.4(n).
- ii. Taxes that are part of regularly scheduled payments are reflected in the disclosure under section 213.4(c), (f), and (n).
- iii. A tax payable by the lessor that is passed on to the consumer and is reflected in the lease documentation must be disclosed under section 213.4(n). A tax payable by the lessor and absorbed as a cost of doing business need not be disclosed.
- iv. Taxes charged in connection with the exercise of a purchase option are disclosed under section 213.4(i), not section 213.4(n).

2. Estimates. In disclosing the total amount of fees and taxes under section 213.4(n), lessors may need to base the disclosure on estimated tax rates or amounts and are afforded great flexibility in doing so. Where a rate is applied to the future value of leased property, lessors have flexibility in estimating that value, including, but not limited to, using the mathematical average of the agreed-upon value and the residual value or published valuation guides; or a lessor could prepare estimates using the agreed-upon value and disclose a reasonable estimate of the total fees and taxes. Lessors may include a statement that the actual total of fees and taxes may be higher or lower depending on the tax rates in effect or the value of the leased property at the time a fee or tax is assessed.

6-568.6

4(a) Description of Property

1. Coverage. If insurance is obtained through the lessor, information on the type and amount of insurance coverage (whether voluntary or required) as well as the cost, must be disclosed.

2. Lessor's insurance. Insurance purchased by the lessor primarily for its own benefit, and absorbed as a business expense and not separately charged to the lessee, need not be disclosed under section 213.4(o) even if it provides an incidental benefit to the lessee.

3. Mechanical-breakdown protection and other products. Whether products purchased in conjunction with a lease, such as mechanical-breakdown protection (MBP) or guaranteed automobile protection (GAP), should be treated as insurance is determined by state or other applicable law. In states that do not treat MBP or GAP as insurance, section 213.4(o) disclosures are not required. In such cases the lessor may, however, disclose this information in accordance with the additional information provision in section 213.3(b). For MBP insurance contracts not capped by a dollar amount, lessors may describe coverage by referring to a limitation by mileage or time period, for example, by indicating that the mechanical-breakdown contract insures parts of the automobile for up to 100,000 miles.

4(p) Warranties or Guarantees

1. Brief identification. The statement identifying warranties may be brief and need not describe or list all warranties applicable to specific parts such as for air conditioning, radio, or tires in an automobile. For example, manufacturer's warranties may be identified simply by a reference to the standard manufacturer's warranty. If a lessor provides a comprehensive list of warranties that may not all apply, to comply with section 213.4(p) the lessor must indicate which warranties apply or, alternatively, which warranties do not apply.

2. Warranty disclaimers. Although a disclaimer of warranties is not required by the regulation, the lessor may give a disclaimer as additional information in accordance with section 213.3(b).

3. State law. Whether an express warranty or guaranty exists is determined by state or other law.

6-568.8

4(q) Penalties and Other Charges for Delinquency

1. Collection costs. The automatic imposition of collection costs or attorney fees upon default must be disclosed under section 213.4(q). Collection costs or attorney fees that are not imposed automatically, but are contingent upon expenditures in conjunction with a collection proceeding or upon the employment of an attorney to effect collection, need not be disclosed.

2. Charges for early termination. When default is a condition for early termination of a lease, default charges must also be disclosed under section 213.4(g)(1). The section 213.4(q) and (g)(1) disclosures may, but need not, be combined. Examples of combined disclosures are provided in the model lease disclosure forms in appendix A.

3. Simple-interest leases. In a simple-interest accounting lease, the additional rent charge that accrues on the lease balance when a periodic payment is made after the due date does not constitute a penalty or other charge for late payment. Similarly, continued accrual of the rent charge after termination of the lease because the lessee fails to return to the leased property does not constitute a default charge. But in either case, if the additional charge accrues at a rate higher than the normal rent charge, the lessor must disclose the amount of or the method of determining the additional charge under section 213.4(q).

4. Extension charges. Extension charges that exceed the rent charge in a simple-interest accounting lease or that are added separately are disclosed under section 213.4(q).

5. Reasonableness of charges. Pursuant to section 183(b) of the act, penalties or other charges for delinquency, default, or early termination may be specified in the lease but only in an amount that is reasonable in light of the anticipated or actual harm caused by the delinquency, default, or early termination, the difficulties of proof of loss, and the inconvenience or nonfeasibility of otherwise obtaining an adequate remedy.

4(r) Security Interest

6-568.9

1. Disclosable security interests. See section 213.2(o) and accompanying commentary to determine what security interests must be disclosed.

6-569

4(s) Limitations on Rate Information

1. Segregated disclosures. A lease rate may not be included among the segregated disclosures referenced in section 213.3(a)(2).

6-569.1

SECTION 213.5—Renegotiations, Extensions, and Assumptions

1. Coverage. Section 213.5 applies only to existing leases that are covered by the regulation. It does not apply to the renegotiation or extension of leases with an initial term of four months or less, because such leases are not covered by the definition of consumer lease in section 213.2(e). Whether and when a lease is satisfied and replaced by a new lease is determined by state or other applicable law.

6-569.11

5(a) Renegotiations

1. Basis of disclosures. Lessors have flexibility in making disclosures so long as they reflect the legal obligation under the renegotiated lease. For example, assume that a 24-month lease is replaced by a 36-month lease. The initial lease began on January 1, 1998, and was renegotiated and replaced on July 1, 1998, so that the new lease term ends on January 1, 2001.

i. If the renegotiated lease covers the 36-month period beginning January 1, 1998, the new disclosures would reflect all payments made by the lessee on the initial lease and all payments on the renegotiated lease. In this example, since the renegotiated lease covers a 36-month period beginning January 1, 1998, the disclosures must reflect payments made since that date. On the model form, the “total of base periodic payments” disclosed under section 213.4(f)(7) should reflect periodic payments to be made over the entire 36-month term. Payments received since January 1, 1998, are added as a new line item disclosed as “total of payments received” and are subtracted from the “total of base periodic payments” in calculating a new item disclosed as the “total of base periodic payments remaining.” For example, if six monthly payments of $300 were received since January 1, 1998, the disclosure form should include a “total of base periodic payments” line from which $1,800 is subtracted to arrive at the “total of base periodic payments remaining.” The remainder of the disclosures would not change.

ii. If the renegotiated lease covers only the remaining 30 months, from July 1, 1998, to January 1, 2001, the disclosures would reflect only the charges incurred in connection with the renegotiation and the payments for the remaining period.

6-569.12

5(b) Extensions

1. Time of extension disclosures. If a consumer lease is extended for a specified term greater than six months, new disclosures are required at the time the extension is agreed upon. If the lease is extended on a month-to-month basis and the cumulative extensions exceed six months, new disclosures are required at the commencement of the seventh month and at the commencement of each seventh month thereafter for as long as the extensions continue. If a consumer lease is extended for terms of varying durations, one of which will exceed six months beyond the originally scheduled termination date of the lease, new disclosures are required at the commencement of the term that will exceed six months beyond the originally scheduled termination date.

2. Content of disclosures for month-to-month extensions. The disclosures for a lease extended on a month-to-month basis for more than six months should reflect the month-to-month nature of the transaction.

3. Basis of disclosures. The disclosures should be based on the extension period, including any up-front costs paid in connection with the extension. For example, assume that initially a lease ends on March 1, 1999. In January

1999, agreement is reached to extend the lease until October 1, 1999. The disclosure would include any extension fee paid in January and the periodic payments for the seven-month extension period beginning in March.

the advertisement is made. If a lessor promotes multiple consumer leases in a single advertisement, the entire advertisement must comply with section 213.7 unless all of the advertised leases are exempt under section 213.2(e). For example:

SECTION 213.6

[Reserved]

6-569.2

A. Assume that, in an advertisement, a lessor states that certain terms apply to a consumer lease for a specific automobile. The total contractual obligation of the advertised lease exceeds the threshold amount in effect when the advertisement is made. Although the advertisement does not refer to any other lease, some or all of the advertised terms for the exempt lease also apply to other leases offered by the lessor with total contractual obligations that do not exceed the applicable threshold amount. The advertisement is not required to comply with section 213.7 because it refers only to an exempt lease.

SECTION 213.7—Advertising

6-569.3

7(a) General Rule

1. Persons covered. All “persons” must comply with the advertising provisions in this section, not just those that meet the definition of a lessor in section 213.2(h). Thus, automobile dealers, merchants, and others who are not themselves lessors must comply with the advertising provisions of the regulation if they advertise consumer lease transactions. Pursuant to section 184(b) of the act, however, owners and personnel of the media in which an advertisement appears or through which it is disseminated are not subject to civil liability for violations under section 185(b) of the act.

2. “Usually and customarily.” Section 213.7(a) does not prohibit the advertising of a single item or the promotion of a new leasing program, but prohibits the advertising of terms that are not and will not be available. Thus, an advertisement may state terms that will be offered for only a limited period or terms that will become available at a future date.

3. Total contractual obligation of advertised lease. Section 213.7 applies to advertisements for consumer leases, as defined in section 213.2(e). Under section 213.2(e), a consumer lease is exempt from the requirements of this part if the total contractual obligation exceeds the threshold amount in effect at the time of consummation. See comment 2(e)-9. Accordingly, section 213.7 does not apply to an advertisement for a specific consumer lease if the total contractual obligation for that lease exceeds the threshold amount in effect when

B. Assume that, in an advertisement, a lessor states certain terms (such as the amount due at lease signing) that will apply to consumer leases for automobiles of a particular brand. However, the advertisement does not refer to a specific lease. The total contractual obligations of the leases for some of the automobiles will exceed the threshold amount in effect when the advertisement is made, but the total contractual obligations of the leases for other automobiles will not exceed the threshold. The entire advertisement must comply with section 213.7 because it refers to terms for consumer leases that are not exempt.

C. Assume that, in a single advertisement, a lessor states that certain terms apply to consumer leases for two different automobiles. The total contractual obligation of the lease for the first automobile exceeds the threshold amount in effect when the advertisement is made, but the total contractual obligation of the lease for the second automobile does not exceed the threshold. The entire advertisement must comply with section 213.7 because it refers to a consumer lease that is not exempt.

6-569.47(b) Clear-and-Conspicuous Standard

1. Standard. The disclosures in an advertisement in any media must be reasonably understandable. For example, very fine print in a television advertisement or detailed and very rapidly stated information in a radio advertisement does not meet the clear-and-conspicuous standard if consumers cannot see and read or hear, and cannot comprehend, the information required to be disclosed.

6-569.57(b)(1) Amount Due at Lease Signing or Delivery

1. Itemization not required. Only a total of amounts due at lease signing or delivery is required to be disclosed, not an itemization of its component parts. Such an itemization is provided in any transaction-specific disclosures provided under section 213.4.

2. Prominence rule. Except for a periodic payment, oral or written references to components of the total due at lease signing or delivery (for example, a reference to a capitalized cost reduction, where permitted) may not be more prominent than the disclosure of the total amount due at lease signing or delivery.

6-569.67(b)(2) Advertisement of a Lease Rate

1. Location of statement. The notice required to accompany a percentage rate stated in an advertisement must be placed in close proximity to the rate without any other intervening language or symbols. For example, a lessor may not place an asterisk next to the rate and place the notice elsewhere in the advertisement. In addition, with the exception of the notice required by section 213.4(s), the rate cannot be more prominent than any section 213.4 disclosure stated in the advertisement.

6-569.77(c) Catalogs or Other Multipage Advertisements; Electronic Advertisements

1. General rule. The multiple-page advertisements referred to in section 213.7(c) are advertisements consisting of a series of numbered pages—for example, a supplement to a newspaper. A mailing comprising several separate flyers or pieces of promotional material in a single envelope is not a single multiple-page advertisement.

2. Cross-references. A catalog or other multiple-page advertisement or an electronic advertisement (such as an advertisement appearing on an Internet website) is a single advertisement (requiring only one set of lease disclosures) if it contains a table, chart, or schedule with the disclosures required under section 213.7(d)(2)(i) through (v). If one of the triggering terms listed in section 213.7(d)(1) appears in a catalog, or in a multiple-page or electronic advertisement, it must clearly direct the consumer to the page or location where the table, chart, or schedule begins. For example, in an electronic advertisement, a term triggering additional disclosures may be accompanied by a link that directly connects the consumer to the additional information.

6-569.87(d)(1) Triggering Terms

1. Typical example. When any triggering term appears in a lease advertisement, the additional terms enumerated in section 213.7(d)(2)(i) through (v) must also appear. In a multi-lease advertisement, an example of one or more typical leases with a statement of all the terms applicable to each may be used. The examples must be labeled as such and must reflect representative lease terms that are made available by the lessor to consumers.

6-569.97(d)(2) Additional Terms

1. Third-party fees that vary by state or locality. The disclosure of a periodic payment or total amount due at lease signing or delivery may:

- i. exclude third-party fees, such as taxes, licenses, and registration fees and disclose that fact or
- ii. provide a periodic payment or total that includes third-party fees based on a particular state or locality as long as that fact and the fact that fees may vary by state or locality are disclosed.

7(e) Alternative Disclosures—
Merchandise Tags

6-570

1. Multiple-item leases. Multiple-item leases that utilize merchandise tags requiring additional disclosures may use the alternative-disclosure rule.

6-570.1

7(f) Alternative Disclosures—Television or Radio Advertisements

7(f)(1) *Toll-Free Number or Print
Advertisement*

1. Publication in general circulation. A reference to a written advertisement appearing in a newspaper circulated nationally, for example, USA Today or the Wall Street Journal, may satisfy the general circulation requirement in section 213.7(f)(1)(ii).

2. Toll-free number, local or collect calls. In complying with the disclosure requirements of section 213.7(f)(1)(i), a lessor must provide a toll-free number for nonlocal calls made from an area code other than the one used in the lessor's dialing area. Alternatively, a lessor may provide any telephone number that allows a consumer to reverse the phone charges when calling for information.

3. Multipurpose number. When an advertised toll-free number responds with a recording, lease disclosures must be provided early in the sequence to ensure that the consumer receives the required disclosures. For example, in providing several dialing options—such as providing directions to the lessor's place of business—the option allowing the consumer to request lease disclosures should be provided early in the telephone message to ensure that the option to request disclosures is not obscured by other information.

4. Statement accompanying toll-free number. Language must accompany a telephone and television number indicating that disclosures are available by calling the toll-free number, such as “call 1-800-000-0000 for details about costs and terms.”

6-570.2

SECTION 213.8—Record Retention

1. Manner of retaining evidence. A lessor must retain evidence of having performed required actions and of having made required disclosures. Such records may be retained in paper form, on microfilm, microfiche, or computer, or by any other method designed to reproduce records accurately. The lessor need retain only enough information to reconstruct the required disclosures or other records.

6-570.3

SECTION 213.9—Relation to State
Laws

1. Exemptions granted. Effective October 1, 1982, the Board granted the following exemptions from portions of the Consumer Leasing Act:

- i. Maine. Lease transactions subject to the Maine Consumer Credit Code and its implementing regulations are exempt from chapters 2, 4, and 5 of the federal act. (The exemption does not apply to transactions in which a federally chartered institution is a lessor.)
- ii. Oklahoma. Lease transactions subject to the Oklahoma Consumer Credit Code are exempt from chapters 2 and 5 of the federal act. (The exemption does not apply to sections 132 through 135 of the federal act, nor does it apply to transactions in which a federally chartered institution is a lessor.)

APPENDIX A—Model Forms

1. Permissible changes. Although use of the model forms is not required, lessors using them properly will be deemed to be in compliance with the regulation. Generally, lessors may make certain changes in the format or content of the forms and may delete any disclosures that are inapplicable to a transaction without losing the act's protection from liability. For example, the model form based on monthly periodic payments may be modified for single-payment lease transactions or for quarterly or other regular or irregular periodic payments. The model form may also be modified to reflect that a transaction is an extension. The content, format, and headings for the segregated disclosures must be substantially similar to those contained in the model forms; therefore, any changes should be minimal. The changes to the model forms should not be so extensive as to affect the substance and the clarity of the disclosures.

2. Examples of acceptable changes.

- i. Using the first person, instead of the second person, in referring to the lessee
- ii. Using “lessee,” “lessor,” or names instead of pronouns
- iii. Rearranging the sequence of the nonsegregated disclosures
- iv. Incorporating certain state “plain-English” requirements
- v. Deleting or blocking out inapplicable disclosures, filling in “N/A” (not applicable) or “0,” crossing out, leaving blanks, checking a box for applicable items, or circling applicable items (this should facilitate use of multipurpose standard forms.)
- vi. Adding language or symbols to indicate estimates

- vii. Adding numeric or alphabetic designations
- viii. Rearranging the disclosures into vertical columns, except for section 213.4(b) through (e) disclosures
- ix. Using icons and other graphics

3. Model closed-end or net vehicle lease disclosure. Model A-2 is designed for a closed-end or net vehicle lease. Under the “Early Termination and Default” provision a reference to the lessee’s right to an independent appraisal of the leased vehicle under section 213.4(l) is included for those closed-end leases in which the lessee’s liability at early termination is based on the vehicle’s realized value.

4. Model furniture-lease disclosures. Model A-3 is a closed-end lease disclosure statement designed for a typical furniture lease. It does not include a disclosure of the appraisal right at early termination required under section 213.4(l) because few closed-end furniture leases base the lessee’s liability at early termination on the realized value of the leased property. The disclosure should be added if it is applicable.
